CHURCH AFFRAY IS BEFORE JURY

Twenty Four Jurors In Court Serving For
Short Session

The Morgan County court, criminal division, is expected to draw to a close either today or Wednesday.

An unusually large number of convictions are reported; mostly following trials of individuals charged with the violation of the prohibition laws: A case that occupied most of this morning involved a charge of disturbing public worship at a church known as the "Liberty Church" west of the Moulton pike.

The following is the jury list:

Thos. E. Solomon, Albany 3; Archie S. Goforth, 5 Ave. S.; Ed W. Hartselle, Hartselle; Art C. McCluskey, Albany 3; Wyatt A. Mitchell, Hartselle; Robert G. Sybert, Hartselle 2; Marcus H. McCutcheon, Somerville 3; Dewey R. Clark, Albany 4; Street J. Evans, Hartselle; Onto Horton, Hartselle; Grady Sherrill, Line street; Ray Barclift, Hartselle; Melvin M. Hipp; Falkville 1; William E. McAnear, Falkville 1; Wilbur M. Royer, 7th Ave West; John W. Nowwood, Jackson street; Rex W. Teague, Hartselle 1; Will N. Breedlove, Danville 1; John B. Pritchard, Lacy's Spring 1; Frank B. Napps, Albany 3; W. Eugene Sibley, Sherman street; Ratliff E. Hardwick, Danville 2; Jim H. Putnam, 1209 4th avenue S.; Will R. Spight, Jackson street.

Two Old Dogs Died During Past Week

The mortality of dogs for the past few days in this section has been high. The oldest canine to pass to the happy hunting ground, was "Trixie," fox terrier, belonging to Henry Goldel, Fifth avenue South Albany.

This animal was 19 years of age and had been the childhood companion of many Twin City people who are now almost grown. "Senility" was given as the cause of the death of "Trixie" by Dr. S. M. Thompson.

One of the best and most favorably known local dogs to die lately was "Rip" 12, a black and white pointer, belonging to Rufus Peerson.

Mr. Peerson stated that "Rip" had a high record in Mississippi, his original home, for bird hunting and many local people have testified to the ability of the deceased pointer to show the way to coveys of partridges and to hold his game until the hunters were ready to shoot.

Silk Mill Plans To Keep Plant Open

E. A. Wright, superintendent of the Albany Silk Mill, stated Tuesday, that a movement was on foot for a week's layoff at the silk mill, but that it was improbable the owners of the property would agree to holidays at this time. Mr. Wright explained that while he could not say for Unofficial results of 22nd ballot: Underwood 45 1-2; McAdoo 438 1-2; Robinson 22; Smith 307 1-2; J. W. Davis 123 1-2; Cox 60; Governor Davis 5; Glass 25; Ralston 32; Saulsbury 12; Walsh 8 1-2; Ritchie 17 1-2. Absent one.

Twenty-third ballot: Underwood 39 1-2; McAdoo 438 1-2; Robinson 23; Smith 308; John W. Davis 129 1-2; Ritchie 17 1-2; Cox 60; Governor Davis 5; Glass 30; Ralston 32; Saulsbury 6; Walsh 8. Absent one.

A 24th ballot was ordered and at its conclusion it was the plan of leaders to recess the convention until night.

When the Missouri delegation left McAdoo today, the friends of the late Champ Clark said the day they had been waiting since 1912 had arrived. Next to William Jennings Bryan, Clark's friends always felt that McAdoo had as much as any man to do with the defeat of Clark at the Baltimore convention.

Improvements Are Now Made At Mill

The local knitting mill of the Cooper-Wells company of St. Joseph, Michigan is standing idle for the present and will not start up again until 14, stated Superintendent King, explained that there was considerable work to be done about the plant.

Mr. King said that a large mill would be installed during vacation time.

He said that when the new mill was in operation, the company would be in a position to handle a large volume of business.

CLASSES ON PLAN

is Sunday morn-church Dr. S. A.

First Methodist
union to speak of the unification of the with the Northern Methodist and explained his position as for the present, the wis-of the present plan to unite the churches.

Dr. Steel said that always where a great change was effected, three classes appeared, and he illustrated this point by referring to conditions after the civil war of which struggle the venerable preacher was a part.
Dr. Steel said the first class he would mention were the hard losers after the civil war, the next those who easily reconciled, and third, those who accepted the results as final and in good faith, but maintained their own ideas.

Dr. Steel and General Lee belonged to the last named class, and that he (Dr. Steel) would accept unification in good faith if it came but with "mental reservations." He said after the civil war was over, Colonel Cameron Maury, Judah P. Benjamin and others left the United States entirely and that on the other hand General James Longstreet, Major Cosby and a few others after the civil war joined with the North and that General Longstreet accepted office under the republicans.

Dr. Steel's sermon dealt with an interesting description of the four gospels and their writers. The preacher dwelt longest upon the gospel of John.
He said John and some others seemed to understand the Master better than many others of His disciples. "Not that they loved Him any better, but the many did not understand many things the Master desired that they should understand. The sermon closed with an invitation to non-Christians, following John 3-16, "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life." One new member was received into the church.

COLONEL LANE IS BACK FROM MEET

Colonel Hector D. Lane, of Courtland, was here today, one of the first North Alabamians to return from the democratic national convention. Colonel Lane was accompanied as far as Huntsville by Bob Chase, and as far as Washington, D. C., by Mayor C.
H. Meggs, of Courtland, Mr. Meggs planning to arrive home Tuesday night.

Colonel Lane said if he heard one, he heard a hundred persons say they were sorry they attended the New York convention, on account of the unnecessary confusions aroused there. Colonel Lane said the demonstrations were disgusting in the main and mechanical affairs.

"There is no doubt" declared Colonel Lane "of the made-for-the-occasion, mechanical character of the Al Smith demonstration.

"When I left New York, we spectators knew as much about the possible presidential nominee, as did the delegates. All was confusion, with Underwood standing as good a chance as any of them" Colonel Lane said he was sure McAdoo and Smith would eliminate each other, and that he looked for a big following to seek the nomination of either John W. Davis or Senator Carter Glass. Colonel Lane expressed the belief that never again would "paid for" "mechanical" demonstrations be a part of national political conventions unless the people forget about how disgusted they were with what was done in that line at New York.

Pleasant Hill To Observe the Fourth

Citizens of Pleasant Hill, six miles west, will stage a July 4 celebration, beginning early Friday morning.
There is to be a picnic and free for all barbecue with a number of addresses on education. Prof. E. L. Hayes, Superintendent of education in Morgan County, is to be one of the chief speakers for the day, stated J. T. Robinson one of the members of the board of education for the Pleasant Hill public schools. Mr. Robinson has extended a cordial invitation to all to attend the all-day celebration on the Fourth.

DIES AT CAPT

...adopted by the New York con-
...as follows:

The Democratic party pledges all its energies to the outlawing of the whole war system. We reuse to believe that the wholesale slaughter of human beings on the battlefield is any more necessary by individuals.

The only hope for world peace and for economic every lies in the organized efforts of nations combining to remove the cause of war and substituting law and order for violence.

Under democratic leadership a practical plan has been devised under which 54 nations are now operating and have been for the past four years, the United States government for the last years has had no foreign policy and consequently has delayed the restoration of political and economic conditions in the world, which impaired self respect at home and diminished prestige abroad; has curtailed foreign commerce and ruined agriculture.

It is of supreme importance to civilization and mankind that America be placed on the right side of the greatest moral question of all times.
The democratic party declares its faith in the principle of rendering assistance in the high purpose of establishing world peace through the League of Nations and the World Court of Justice, which it recognizes as institutions representing the supreme effort of statesmanship.

Therefore the democratic party declares the purpose of the next administration to do all in its power to secure that moral leadership in the family of nations which in the providence of God are called upon to assume.

There is no substitute for the League of Nations as an agency operating for world peace, therefore, we declare in the interest of peace that we will establish a permanent foreign policy under which these supreme questions may be decided and not subject to change.

A desirable and wise and necessary to lift the nation out of partisan politics and that a census of the American people by a plurality election, advisory to the congress, to be held officially under action of congress and free from all contentious political questions.

Balloting Shows Little Real Hope For A Nomination

his name mentioned at the present stage, said the state of the situation in the convention was such that there was absolutely no chance for a break.
There was a plan afoot to have some one move for a recess for the announced purpose of caucusing and finding some way to let the convention come to a decision and let the far away delegates, with flattening pocketbooks and swelling hotel bills, go home.

The dragging pace set by the leaders heartened all the favorite son supporters to hope for a deadlock and a break-away in a new direction, but they all shook their heads when asked to predict when such a break might come.

Pressed for an opinion some said it might arrive by tonight and some declared it might be two or three days away. The McAdoo people meantime said McAdoo would be nominated today or tomorrow.

The convention seemed in no hurry this morning to return to the task that had kept it in session until a few minutes after midnight.

Ten thirty, the hour fixed for opening the session, passed with only a handful of delegates in their seats and with the band playing the usual preliminary concert to almost empty galleries.

The eighteenth ballot, like its predecessors, developed no presidential candidate. While the eighteenth ballot was going on, the Mississippi people trying to agree on a place to go, finally came to a determination to try John W. Davis for a time and see how his stock turned out. It was reported they would stay in his column two or three ballots under the unit rule, by which it was said the Davis people were holding the delegation by two thirds of a vote.

Wyoming swung its six from Robinson to Glass on this ballot.

Pennsylvania cast a scattering vote without material change but it was reported that it might later add some to Smith. There was also talk of Ohio might swing a big block of votes to the New York governor on a later ballot and that Illinois would increase its 18, which it had been casting for him.

McAdoo's men expected to counter with some Ohio votes they could add to their the Southern states.

South Dakota again taking one from McAdoo to Glass, Wyoming, which

The continuing roll call wore down the reading clerks J. Halligan, the chief, called in Izetta Jewell Brown, to take the 22nd ballot. The names of seven states had been recited off before there was a change in the line up of the leaders.
Florida took one away from McAdoo and gave it to Ralston. Illinois again scattered showing no change in the distribution among Smith, McAdoo and Davis of West Virginia.

Soon after the Missouri slide from McAdoo to Davis, Mrs. McAdoo left her box, where she had been keeping tab on the voting. If Kansas was considering a switch, she did not make it, sticking to McAdoo.

Kentucky's 26 votes for McAdoo were challenged and that state was passed. The demand made by an Underwood supporter. Massachusetts scattered again, but made no change among the leaders. Michigan added one to McAdoo's columns. It came from a vote and a half taken from Davis, of West Virginia.

Minnesota took one from John W.
Davis and gave it to McAdoo. Smith held his 15. New Hampshire took the one vote it had been giving to McAdoo and added it to the six it had been giving Senator Walsh of Montana, leaving intact the one it had been giving to Smith.

North Carolina stayed with McAdoo despite the talk that it was getting ready to move somewhere.
